

Complying with U.S. Export Controls: A Roundtable Discussion

Exporters know that the Export Administration Regulations ('Regs') apply to ALL export transactions, regardless of the items being exported. Even when a tangible item does not carry a license requirement, all exported items fall under the jurisdiction of one of the USG agencies. Still, some companies grapple with applying a basic framework to their export strategy..

Casual Dialogue with Senior Trade Experts

Dina Molaison, Senior International Trade Specialist, U.S. Commercial Service-Atlanta, will moderate a candid discussion on export controls and compliance in Jackson, May 30 and Biloxi, May 31, 2018. We'll take the mechanical approach out of the equation and apply solid principles you can use to ensure your company is compliant with U.S. export control law.

Individual Answers to Your Export Questions

Prior to the event, registrants will be contacted and asked to briefly describe how export compliance fits into their organization and if there are specific challenges that need to be addressed during the roundtable and one-on-one consultations.

What to Expect

- No lengthy PowerPoints here – just practical guidance on how to navigate the Regs and the Bureau of Industry & Security (BIS) website
- We'll focus on the big picture and provide an overview on how the Regulations affect your exports
- Review applicable topics such as:
  - Classifying your items/Determining the ECCNs for your products
  - SNAP-R Guidance/Commodity Classification
  - Sanctioned Countries
  - License Exceptions
  - Deemed Exports
  - Record Keeping / Voluntary Self-Disclosure
  - Developing an Export Management & Compliance Program (EMCP)
