

Van Lissick Enterprise, LLC.

Located in Jackson, Mississippi, Van Lissick Enterprise, LLC is owned and operated by Roderick Nicholson. Established in 2017, the firm provides services that include but are not limited to engineering, environmental consulting, research, and development in the social sciences and humanities as well as document preparation services. Van Lissick Enterprise takes pride in providing competent, timely consulting services to its clients and partners.

Nicholson received a Bachelor of Science Degree in Civil Engineering from the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign where he had a dual specialty in Environmental and Transportation Engineering. For more than 30 years, he worked as a civil engineer/project manager in municipal, state, and federal government. Van Lissick Enterprise is essentially a consulting firm building on this background. "Mr. Nicholson established the firm after retiring from government in 2016. n.

Although the firm is young; it is backed by a wealth of knowledge. In reference to past projects, Van Lissick Enterprise has partnered with other established consulting firms to provide construction inspection and quality and assurance services to MDA/City of Clinton's water and sewer municipal extension project for the Continental Tire Company (Bolton, MS). Currently, the firm is working as a sub-consultant in the Dallas-Fort Worth, TX (Metroplex) area. In February 2019, Van Lissick Enterprise worked with Fortson Developers, LLC and received preliminary plat approval for Hico Hills subdivision (Jackson, MS). Nicholson will continue to bid projects that match his firm's scope of work and expertise.

Nicholson explained what differentiates his company within the construction industry. "I have a wealth of experience as a civil engineer/project manager and more than 10 years of experience as a small-town mayor (Terry, MS). Overall, I am qualified to approach the infrastructure, environmental, and public policy concerns of client projects," he said.

As a small business owner, Nicholson stresses the importance of being patient and focused on the goals of your business. "Rome was not built in a day. Take your business and clients seriously and make a concerted effort each day to provide the best services," said Nicholson. A MISSISSIPPI SUCCESS STORY

Dunn's Construction Company

Odis Dunn is the owner of Dunn's Construction Company located in Natchez, Mississippi. The firm specializes in commercial and institutional building construction, alteration and renovation as well as residential remodeling. Dunn works closely with his daughter Kelly Dunn Franklin who serves as the firm's business manager.

Dunn gained much of his 27 plus years of experience by working with his brother-in-law, Roy Robins who owned a flooring business. They completed several projects throughout Louisiana. He then went on to partner and work with his neighbor, Sydney Bass who owned a construction business. "Gaining the skillset and knowledge inspired me to start my own business. It's more than work to me it's a legacy," said Dunn. He then explained the importance of training his daughter because she will be the face, decision maker, and ultimately the owner of the business someday.

Current projects for the firm entail the construction of two playgrounds located in the City of Natchez. One of the firm's largest projects included working as a sub-contractor to Paul Jackson & Son, Inc. on a 1.5 million dollar church project also located in Natchez. Dunn Construction has continued to build its capacity and bid most projects as the prime contractor.

Dunn believes that owning a successful business allows him to pave the way for others in his community. "I hire people within my community and share the knowledge that I have so that one day they can create something of their own," he said.

Over the past year, Dunn stated his business has grown about 35 percent with an increase in the number and size of projects. He contributes consistent bidding and good customer service to his firm's growth.

Dunn provides a list of components that has helped his business to thrive. "Having good credit is important along with the ability to hire good people. Also, reviewing the bid opportunities and newsletter forwarded by the DBE Supportive Services Team can help you be more knowledgeable of potential projects," said Dunn. For more information about this firm please contact Odis Dunn at 601-597-5653 or send correspondence to odunn46@att.net

Presenting Yourself Competitively

Companies want to hire the brightest and best! Hands, down, everything is competitive. Consequently, you have to think like a champion.

To run the race and win, you must create a competitive edge. Here are some smart strategies which can enhance your professional brand.

First Smart Solution: You must establish a polished online brand. It's not an option; it's a business need. Not only does your web presence say who you are, it provides a glimpse into your presentation. In addition, your business card and portfolio should represent what you have to offer the business world.

Second Smart Solution: If you are interviewing for a job, you should be prepared to answer differently from your competitor. People hire skills; but, they also hire personality.

Third Smart Solution: Come prepared with visuals to illustrate how you solved a company's problems or made improvements. People hire people who have a portfolio that illustrates WHAT you have done and HOW WELL you have done it. Showing, versus talking about your success speaks volumes!

In this world, you've got to sell your business. However, never forget you are your business; therefore, the buyer is also buying YOU!

OSHA Safety Tip of the Month!

Industrial Cleaning

The institutional and industrial cleaning industry provides essential products and services that are used to clean and maintain a healthy indoor environment for commercial establishments of all sizes and types, including schools, hospitals, day care centers, food service operations, office complexes, and other similar establishments. As in many industries, employees in the cleaning industry face a number of hazards. Cleaning industry employees may be exposed to potentially hazardous chemicals may be asked to work with equipment that can present a danger and may be asked to perform various tasks that may cause an injury or illness if not performed properly. Further, the physical environment in which cleaning services are performed can present hazards.

Working with cleaning chemicals can cause:

- Coughing
- Shortness of breath
- Sore Throat
- Nosebleeds
- Wheezing
- Skin rashes
- Headaches and Dizziness
- Asthma

What You Need to Know:

- Do not mix cleaning products that contain bleach and ammonia. Dangerous gases can be released and can cause severe lung damage.

Employers are required to provide a safe workplace that includes:

- Sufficient ventilation (airflow) when using cleaning chemicals.
- Protective clothing, gloves, and safety goggles, when needed.
- Labels on containers of chemical cleaners.
- Training on the hazards of cleaning chemicals you are using and safe work practices.

Your employer must train you to:

- Know the hazards of cleaning chemicals BEFORE using them.
- Know how to use and store cleaning chemicals safely.
- Know how and when to dilute cleaning chemicals you are using.
- Know what to do if there is a spill or other emergency.
- Know how to obtain and use hazard information on labels and material safety data sheets.
- Know how and when to use protective clothing, gloves, and safety goggles.

Remember:

- Wash your hands after using cleaning chemicals and before eating, drinking, or smoking.

SMALL BUSINESS CAPITAL FUND OF MS, INC

Investing in Mississippi.....one small business at a time!

The Small Business Capital Fund of MS, Inc. (SBCF) located in Jackson, MS, has been approved by the US Department of Transportation as the sole lender in the state to administer the USDOT's Short Term Lending Program (STLP). This program is a loan guarantee program. Approved lenders, such as SBCF, offer these loans, which provide up to a 75% federal government guarantee. The STLP is designed to assist Disadvantaged Business Enterprises (DBE) and Small Disadvantaged Businesses (SDB) seeking access to working capital in order to obtain transportation-related contracts receiving USDOT funding. These loans are revolving lines of credit that provide funds to finance the direct labor and material cost of completing transportation-related contracts. The transportation contracts are assigned to the line of credit as the primary loan collateral.

The participating lender will advance funds to the borrower based upon approved contract invoices for work completed. The maximum advance rate on an invoice is 85%. Certain certifications are required for utilization of the program. Applicants can be a contractor, sub-contractor, supplier of products or provide professional services for the transportation related-project. Start-up businesses are not eligible for this program and applicants must be current on all tax liabilities. The line of credit is usually set up for a one-year term. Other eligibility restrictions may apply.

For more information, contact Small Business Capital Fund of MS, Inc., at 601-713-3322.
